

PLANE - Choose the best option

Drain the veins in my heart/ head
Clean out the reds in my eyes to get by security lines
Dear x-ray machine / file
Pretend you don't know me so well
I won't tell if you lied
Cry 'cause your droughts been brought up
Drinkin' 'cause you're looking so good in your Starbucks cup
I complain for the journey / company that I keep
The windows for sleeping rearrange
Well I'm nobody
Well who's laughing now / at the moment

I'm leaving your city / town again
And I'm over the ground that you've been spinning
And I'm up in the air said baby hell yeah
Well honey I can see your house / backyard from here
If the plane goes down, damn
Well I'll forget / remember where the love was found
If the plane goes down, damn

Damn, I should be so sad / lucky
Even only 24 hours under your touch
You know I need you so much
I cannot wait to call you
And tell you that I landed / took off somewhere
And hand you a square of the airport
And walk you through the maze of the map
That I'm gazing at Gracefully unnamed and feeling happiness / guilty for the luck
And the look that you gave me
You make me somebody
Oh nobody knows me
Not even me can see it, yet I bet

chorus

Flax seeds, well they tear me open
And supposedly you could crawl right through me
Taste these teeth please
And undress me from the sweaters better hurry
'Cause I'm heating upward bound now
Oh maybe I'll build my house on your cloud
Here I'm tumbling for you
Stumbling through the work that I have to do
Don't mean to harm you

chorus

Damn you

You keep me high
You keep me high-minded
You get me high
You get me high-minded
