

Reading a book

It is July. You are on the beach, getting a tan, and you have your favourite book with you.

You say: I _____ (read) a book.

You started reading the book at 10:00 and now it's 12:00.

You say: I _____ (read) the book for 2 hours.

At 10 a.m. you started reading your book from 50th page. Now you are on the page 70.

You say: I _____ (read) 20 pages.

In September you speak to a colleague of yours about your holiday.

You say: In July, I was on the beach, getting a tan and I _____ (read) a book. What a wonderful time!

Your colleague says: You know what? I _____ (read) all the books I had on my list for summer even before I _____ (leave) for my holiday.
