

Complete with the correct form of the collocation

1. The baby is playing, and I need to go to the bathroom please _____ eye on him.
2. Don't forget to _____ hands with your sister when you cross the street.
3. I trust on my cousin because she always _____ my secrets.
4. The professor is now in a meeting, please _____ 10 minutes.
5. You told me you were going to arrive on time, you didn't _____ your promise.
6. If you are going to have an open event, please _____ in mind the weather.
7. Our classmates are _____ a ball party for our graduation.
8. My little sister is afraid of the dark and yesterday I _____ her company.
9. Swimmers can _____ their breath more time than regular people.
10. I woke up late and _____ my plane, I had to buy another ticket.
11. The police shot the thief but they _____ him.
12. Three years ago, I _____ contact with one of my friends from college.
13. We are _____ the game and there are little chances to win.
14. Sorry Sr, you have _____ your turn, please take another turn.
15. I am trying to _____ weight, that's why I'm having a straight diet.
16. She _____ her dog since it died the last month and she is very sad.
17. The teacher _____ the temper when the students started talking.
18. She could have gone to England but she _____ the chance.
19. My mom _____ the patience so easily when people is reckless.
20. I don't like _____ classes because then I don't understand the activities.

Choose the right answer

Make their way to in the way out of the way

On the way to

by the way

there's no way

Learn the hard way

my way

1. _____, have you seen this before?
2. Tell the kids to move their toys _____ because someone can fall and get hurt.
3. I told her not to skip classes, but she didn't listen to me and failed.
Unfortunately, had to _____.
4. _____ to school it started raining.
5. After class, the students _____ to the laboratory.
6. You left your car _____ and I can't move mine.
7. _____ we come back to school next semester; the virus is getting stronger as the time goes by.
8. My dad was going _____ and he took me to the mall.

Modal verbs + have + past participle

Mike Hi, Paul. What's wrong?

Paul My cell phone isn't working. I lent it to my sister. She (1) must have broken / should have broken it.

Mike Let me have a look. Why is it wet? Ooh, no! She (2) must have used / should have used it in the rain. She (3) shouldn't have done / can't have done that.

Paul I am so annoyed. That's the last time I'll lend her anything. It's a state-of-the-art cell phone. It cost me $400. She's going to have to buy me a new one.

Mike Wait a minute. Look, it's working. We just needed to dry off the battery. If you want my opinion, you (4) couldn't have lent / shouldn't have lent it to her in the first place. This always happens when she borrows your things. Remember what happened to your laptop?

Paul Yeah, I remember I had to call a technician. She (5) should have destroyed / could have destroyed it completely, you know.

Kelly I love your new jeans. Are they a designer label? You (6) could have paid / must have paid a lot for them.

Lisa Actually, I bought them in a used clothing store for $20.

Kelly Really? I might go and get a pair.

Lisa Unfortunately, these were the last pair. You (7) should have gone / might have gone yesterday.

Rewrite the sentences using modal verbs + have + past participle

1. It was wrong of you to take your sister's car without asking her first.

You _____.

2. I am certain Harry went to the library.

Harry _____.

3. I'm sure getting lost in the forest was a scary experience for you.

Getting lost in the forest _____.

4. Ryan isn't sure if he has seen this movie before.

Ryan _____.

5. I'm sure Larry did not finish his assignment before me.

Larry _____.

6. It's possible that they didn't know about the party.

They _____.

7. You were lucky you didn't break your leg when you fell down.

You _____.