The Zero Conditional

Condition	Result
If-clause	Main clause
1) If + Present Simple,	… Present simple
If I have time,	I read books.
2) If + Present Simple,	Command …
If you need me,	call me.*
Comma!

Result	Condition
Main clause	If-clause
1) Present Simple …	if + Present Simple
I read books	if I have time.
2) Command …	if + Present Simple
Call me*	if you need me.
No comma!

Zero conditional 1

Rewrite the sentences.
If I have time, I read books. → I read books if I have time.

1. If you mix yellow and blue, you get green.

2. If I drink coffee in the evening, I can not sleep well.

3. If you eat too much junk food, you get fat.

4. If you need a pen, you can borrow mine.

5. If you don't believe what I say, ask your teacher.

6. If you touch a hot iron, you get burned.

7. If you add two and one, you get three.

8. If you mix blue and red, you get purple.

9. If he misses the bus, he takes his bike to school.

10. If it's cold outside, I wear my pullover.

LIVEWORKSHEETS