Buy, Buy, Buy

- Do you go shopping whenever you feel depressed? Do you spend too much money on things you don't really need, lose control and then get into debt? If you answered 'yes' to these questions, you may be a shopaholic!
- "Shopaholism" is uncontrolled shopping in order to feel better about yourself. Just like some people go on holidays to sunny countries or eat chocolate to feel better, others simply go on shopping sprees. But shopaholics usually come home with bags and bags of items, most of which will never be used, and an empty bank account.
- So, what can you do about the problem?

- Always pay in cash. Never take your credit cards with you when you go shopping-or better still, destroy them altogether.
- Make a shopping list before you leave the house and stick to it.
- Work out a monthly budget, so you know what you can spend.
- Take only enough money with you to pay for the absolute essentials.
- Avoid ordering goods from catalogues, and don't watch shopping channels on TV.
- If you see something you feel you must have, ask the shop to keep it for you and go back again a few days later. If you still want it, buy it.

4. Try to follow these simple steps. We hope your effort won't be pointless. After a while you can get exciting results and you should never lose control of your purse or your budget again!
