

GRAMMAR

the future

1 Read the sentences and choose the correct meaning.

- I'm starting Spanish lessons next term.
This has already been planned / hasn't been planned yet.
- I'm sure you'll do well in the exam.
This is a prediction / promise.
- When does your next class start?
The speaker wants to know about your plans / timetable.
- Lucy is off sick today. I'll text her my lesson notes.
The speaker makes the decision to text the lesson notes before / at the time of speaking.
- Vicky is playing really well. She's going to make the first team.
This is just what I feel / based on what I know.
- Don't ring at six. We'll be eating dinner.
Dinner will / won't be finished at six o'clock.
- Let's meet up on Sunday afternoon. I'll have finished my project by then.
My project will be completed before / on Sunday.
- By the time we arrive, we'll have been travelling for a whole day.
This looks forward at an action that will be finished / in progress until a time in the future. The focus is on the frequency / duration of the action.
- I'll message you as soon as class finishes.
The verb 'finishes' refers to the present / future.

2 Choose the best option (A or B).

- You've got a text message.
A I'll read it later.
B I'm reading it later.
- Can I call round at five thirty?
A Better not. I'll be doing my homework then.
B Better not. I'll have done my homework by then.
- I can't wait for Friday the 22nd.
A We'll have been finishing our exams by then.
B We'll have finished our exams by then.
- I'm not very hopeful about this match.
A We're unlikely to win.
B We're due to win.
- Have you been keen on judo for a long time?
A By this May, I'll be doing judo for three years.
B By this May, I'll have been doing judo for three years.
- What are your plans for the weekend?
A We'll go to a music festival.
B We're going to a music festival.

4 Choose the correct words to complete the text.

Andy

Add message | Report

Hi! My mum's just got a new job, so ¹we're moving / we'll move to a new area in a month. This means I'm ²unlikely / about to change schools, which I'm pretty nervous about, to be honest. The new term ³will have been starting / will have started by the time I get there and everyone ⁴is due to know / will already know each other. My parents say ⁵I'll make / I'm making friends quickly, but I keep worrying about the first day when I ⁶walk / will walk in to class. Everyone ⁷will be thinking / will have been thinking, 'Here comes the new kid. What's he ⁸out to be / going to be like?'

Vik

Add message | Report

I did exactly the same last term and I was fine. Don't worry – you ⁹will be / are due to be too. The first day is the worst. After you ¹⁰will get / get through that, ¹¹you're feeling / you'll feel more confident. Just be yourself, find one friendly face and I know ¹²you'll be enjoying / you're likely to enjoy your new school in no time!