

MEANS OF COMMUNICATION

Chapter-17

Answer the following questions:

Q.1 What is communication?

Ans: Communication is the exchange of thoughts and feelings among individuals.

Q.2 Name some means of mass communication?

Ans: Radio, television, newspapers, magazines and films are the means of mass communication.

Q.3 What services does a post office provide us?

Ans: We can send letters, money orders and parcels through the post office.

Q.4 How are modern means of communication helpful to us?

Ans: The modern means of communication have brought the world closer. We can communicate with another person within minutes through telephone, e-mail or fax.

Q.5 Of the radio and television, which one is more powerful means of communication, why?

Ans: Radio is the powerful means of communication as it gives us the latest news, music and a lot of information. Radio is very useful for those who cannot read and write.