

can can't can't couldn't was able to been able to be able to managed

My Blog

This morning, I took my little brother Charlie to the park and he got stuck up a tree.

This surprised me because usually he can climb things easily. Today, he climbed up very high, but then his shirt got caught on a branch and he <sup>1</sup>_____ move at all.

'Help!' he shouted. 'I <sup>2</sup>_____ get down!' He sounded really scared.

I hate heights. I've never <sup>3</sup>_____ go up tall buildings because I <sup>4</sup>_____ look down. It makes me feel sick.

I <sup>5</sup>_____ even stand on a chair!

But when I heard Charlie's frightened shouts I felt different, and I <sup>6</sup>_____ climb up to him. I <sup>7</sup>_____ to free his shirt and we climbed down the tree together.

I hope the experience has changed me for ever. Will I <sup>8</sup>_____ go up tall buildings now? I don't know, but I hope I can. I'd like to try rock-climbing, too.