ENDING

Immediately, I ran to call police station and hospital nearby. In a short while, policemen came to the spot. The lady was sent to hospital by ambulance.

Suddenly, I heard her loud voice. She was shouting for help. I turned behind and shocked to see what had happened. Two strangers who came by motorcycle snatched her bag. She fell down and got hurt.

The policemen gathered information from me. They praised me for my brave and immediate action. I felt very proud of myself.

Last Monday, I was coming back from school. There was an old lady behind me. She was holding a bag and walked slowly.
