John

Rosa

My grandad's name was John. He lived in a small village.

He was a doctor. He didn't work in a hospital, he worked at home. My granny's name was Rosa. She was a nurse.

She helped my grandad.

They didn't work at weekends. They had a big garden.

Rosa worked in the garden. She planted flowers and vegetables. John loved football. He worked in the garden too.

He listened to football matches on the radio. They were happy.

In 1962 they bought a television. It was the first television in the village. On Saturdays and Sundays John's friends went to his house. They watched television all day. Rosa didn't like the television because now my grandad didn't help her in the garden!
