Ben went to the beach last Saturday with all his friends. It was hot and sunny there, and they played volleyball all afternoon. Just before they finished, Ben fell and sprained his wrist. His mum came and took him home, and put an ice pack on his wrist. After an hour or two, it felt a bit better, but she put a bandage on it. Ben also felt very hot, so his mum said he should drink lots of water to keep cool. He had sunburn on his neck, so his mum put some cream on it.
