

REFLECTION

Aurelia situation

Aurelia is a 4th-grade student. She never has study problems but lately, she is distracted and she has started to miss classes, especially virtual ones. The teachers observed that she isn't participating in class and she is being rejected by her classmates, it has also reached their ears that she is being attacked by her classmates through the networks just because she is different and has some personal difficulties and disadvantages.

Questions

What do you think Aurelia feels in this situation? What would you do?
Write what you think: