Reading

8 Read the text and choose the correct answers.

When Sally woke up, her bedroom seemed very bright. It was the middle of winter and usually it was still dark at this early hour of the morning. She got out of bed and drew the curtains. Outside, the whole world was white. It had snowed heavily during the night and it was still snowing. Sally was happy. She loved snow! Suddenly, she heard a strange noise downstairs. She could hear the sound of footsteps. It sounded as if someone was walking around the kitchen. She got dressed quickly and ran down the stairs into the kitchen. There was none there. Her dog, Ben, was sleeping in the corner. Then, to her surprise, she noticed that the back door of the cottage was open. She was sure she had locked it before she went to bed. She looked at her watch. It was exactly eight o'clock. She opened the door and looked outside. There were fresh footprints in the snow, leading away from the house towards the forest. Sally was worried. Perhaps a thief had come into the house during the night. Then she remembered she had left her bag on the kitchen table. She checked it. Everything was still there – her passport, her purse, her keys. What had happened? Who had been in her house? She decided to follow the footprints and find out. She put on her coat, hat and boots and went outside. It was about 50 meters from the cottage to the edge of the forest. The footprints were very large. She followed them for a few minutes and then, suddenly, the footprints stopped...
