

Big world, small people

Zev Hoover has got many hobbies, but his favourite hobby is photography. At the moment, he is working on a Project called "Littlefolk"

Zev takes photos of himself and of other people. Then, he uses his computer to make the people very small. In this way, he makes a big world with little people. In his photos, people are doing different things. For example, they are swimming, climbing trees, walking in forests or flying planes.

His sister often helps him with ideas for the pictures. When Zev isn't taking photos, he writes a blog. He also makes and flies model planes. Many photographers like his work. Here are some comments:

A

I love your photos of water. In this photo, you are jumping into a lake or a river. It's fantastic!!

B

I like this photo. A boy is holding a pencil. He is sitting on a notebook and he is drawing a picture. It's amazing!!

In my favourite photo, a girl is holding a balloon and she is flying. Where is she going? It's a beautiful photo!!

D

I love this photo. A boy is sailing a boat and he is reading a book. The pages of the book are the boat. It's great!
