Malala _____ (be) a great, inspirational person and she _____ (be) the youngest-ever Nobel Peace Prize winner. She _____ (be) a Pakistani girl but she _____ (live) in the UK now. She has been campaigning for children's education, especially girl's education and her charity's name _____ (be) Malala Fund (<https://malala.org>).

What happened to Malala? A few years ago, in a small town in north-west Pakistan, a group of teenage girls were on their short journey to school. They were sitting on the school bus when suddenly a person appeared near the bus and then got on the bus and then he shot Malala. Her head was badly injured.

The gunman was from the Taliban group. The Taliban _____ (be) members of a fundamental (strict) Islamic political movement. Most Taliban members do not believe in or support education for girls.

Malala _____ (be) fine and alive today. She still campaigns for children's rights. She _____ (inspire) people every day.
