Question 27-32

Read the given story about Mary Ellen as a diver and try to guess the missing sentences. The sentences options are listed in the box for you to choose. Write the correct alphabets (A-H) in the box in the text.

Diving is my passion, my life. I have been doing it since I was a kid, starting out with somersaults on the trampoline, and graduating to the springboard of our neighborhood pool. (27)_____.

Later, I attended Pennsylvania State University, where I became a platform diver. A 10-meter platform is as high as a three-storey building. (28)_____. My first time on the platform, it took me a half hour standing at the edge before I got up the nerve to dive. I have never looked back since.

After I graduated, I moved to Florida to train with legendary diving coach, Ron O'Brien. Coach O'Brien said I stood a chance of making the US Olympic team that would compete in the Barcelona summer games.

Training is grueling. (29)_____. But all the training was worth it. When I was named to the US Olympic Diving team, I called back home immediately: "I made it, Dad !"

Though I had good news, Dad had bad. (30)_____. My first impulse was to skip the Olympics so I could stay with him. Dad would not hear of it. "After all, Mare," he reassured me, (31)_____.

(32)_____. one image I kept close was that of my father bending me into the proper dive position on the springboard when I was little.

Question 33-36

*We interviewed some story writers from the Literature Club. Their shared their reviews on the short story Lady Genilia. Read the reviews below and the questions.*

REVIEWS ON SHORT STORY;EUM BOLEY

A- Hazali, 24 years old
To me the short story was really inspiring. The plot was all about a strong woman fighting for her three children.
B- James, 45 years old
I found it a bit boring and lengthy. It focused on the lady's character and the other characters were not given enough space. This story needs an all round scopes to present each characters perspectives in their own point of view.
C-Siti, 50 years old
I loved the short story. It was a modern view for a woman- centric storyline. It basically shows the struggles woman face as a single parent in the current society.
D- Lalitha, 18 years old
I personally found that this short story is overrated just like other short stories that presents the same beginning , problems and solutions. I really hope for some really fresh new ideas.
E- Oo Yu Nee,20 years old
I haven't read the read the short story yet, but I just saw the summary and I lost interest. The short story is not my cup of tea.
F- Lin Lai Zhe, 35 years old
As a man, I think this is an excellent woman- centric short story. It is very simple and easy to understand. It also has visual images that can assist those who are not so good in English to comprehend the story. In short , it directly presents the main aim and thought of the writer.
