A: Excuse me. Haven't we met before?
 B: No, sorry. You don't look familiar.
 A: Isn't your name Deborah?
 B: That's my sister. We look alike. I'm Susan.
 A: I'm Gwen. Deborah and I used to work together at Westhill Secondary School. By the way, how is she? I haven't seen her for ages.
 B: She's great. She hasn't changed much. She's still a Maths teacher.
 A: Tell her I said hello.
 B: Sure. I'm sorry, I didn't catch your name.
 A: Gwen Fisher.
 B: OK, Gwen. This is my floor. It was nice talking to you. Bye.

C: Do you mind if I join you? There aren't any tables available.
 D: No, go ahead.
 C: I'm Francesca.
 D: Jessica. Nice to meet you. What do you do?
 C: I'm a hairdresser. I have got my own salon on Garner Street.
 D: Really? I go past there almost every day. How's business?
 C: It could be better. What about you?
 D: I'm unemployed. I graduated last year, but I haven't found a job yet.
 C: Good luck with that. It's not easy at the moment.
 D: Tell me about it. I've already been to three

E: Steve! Long time no see!
 F: Hello, Ken. Good to see you again.
 E: How long has it been since we last saw each other?
 F: I think it was at your brother's barbecue.
 E: That was a year ago.
 F: Yeah. So, how have you been? Are you still working at that art gallery?
 E: No, I work at the National Museum now. I've been there since March.
 F: Oh, here comes the A19. Got to go. Give me a call sometime, OK?
