HAS GOT/HASN'T GOT

The verb have go means “tener”
We are going to use “has got” to say the personal attributes of animals. And hasn’t got to deny.
El verbo “have got” significa “tener”.
Vamos a utilizar “has got” para decir los atributos personales de los animales y “hasn’t got” para negar. Es decir, vamos a usarlo para describir las partes que tienen o no tienen los animales.

It has got a tail = It’s got a tail
It hasn’t got a beak

The parrot has got wings and a beak. It’s got claws and a tail. It hasn’t got fur. It hasn’t got teeth.

1. Look and complete using “It has got” or “It hasn’t got”.
Then choose an animal and describe it.

_____ a tail.

_____ wings.

_____ teeth.

_____ a beak.

_____ fur.

_____ claws.

It’s a _____

_____

_____

_____

LIVEWORKSHEETS