

Paint The Word Pictures

Good writers make sure they add enough details, so that their descriptions paint complete and vivid pictures in the reader's mind.

1. Siena just finished eating a slice of pepperoni pizza. (Add descriptive details about the pizza.)

2. A baby bird was afraid to take a leap towards its first flight. (Add details about the subject.)

3. The owners left their dog stranded in the overheated car. (Add details about the owners and the dog.)

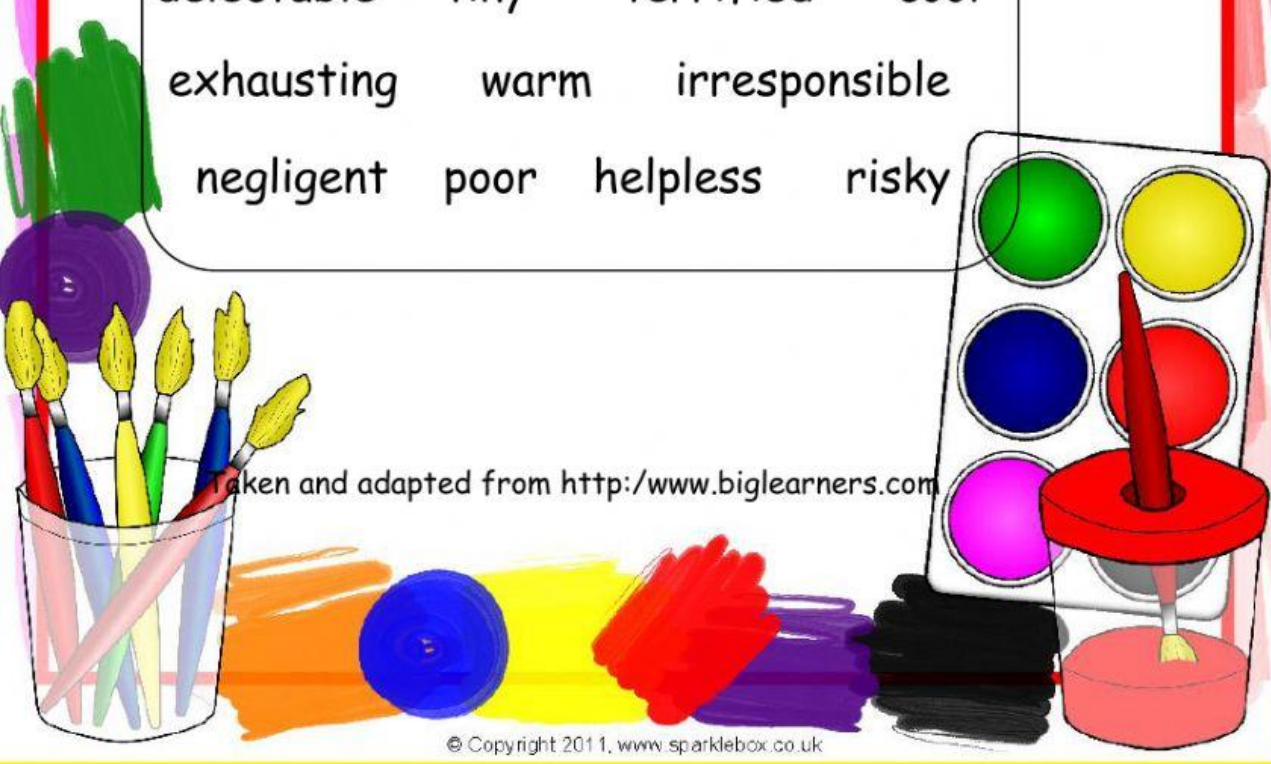

4. I had my jacket and gloves on to protect myself from the wind. (Add details about the jacket, the gloves, and the wind.)

5. Blake was tired after his hike and slept like a baby. (Add details about Blake's hike.)

Use the words from the box to add details to each sentence.
