Neighbours Come Together to Talk About Recent Crime Wave in the City

A sudden increase in criminal activity in the city has neighbours worried about their safety. These are some cases which occurred over the weekend:

1 While a family was watching the football finale, a robber broke into the house and took an expensive, small, bright item. Then, she opened a window and escaped without being noticed. The police are monitoring e-commerce websites in search of the item.

2 A couple broke into the house of a famous artist on Saturday night while the artist was having a party with her friends. The robbers broke into the artist's private studio and stole a new, long, metal item. The artist has offered a reward for anyone who has a tip.

3 A man seized the opportunity to take an unusual, wide, modern item from a removal van when the removers were busy watching a video on their phones. The couple noticed the item was missing when they moved into their new house. Unfortunately, the robber left no evidence.

4 On Friday evening, an organised criminal band broke into a billionaire's mansion. To do this, they created a distraction outside the mansion. When the guards went to see what was happening, the band entered the building from a back door. They quickly went into the billionaire's storage room to retrieve a beautiful, light, broken item. They escaped without problems.
