Value: Intercultural diversity

Ecuador is a multicultural country and everywhere you go there's culture. This time, we refer to the coastal region of Ecuador, where people have an original tradition called in Spanish "amorfinos". You must be wondering what that is and here there is an explanation. An "amorfino" is kind of a rhyme that is a mixture of a romantic poem with some humor. It has influence from the canción which has its origin in Spain. People from the coastal countryside of Ecuador, are called montubios and they have lots of traditions but to make women fall in love, they use the popular and funny "amorfinos".
