

Read the dialog and decide whether the sentences are true or false.

Sue: I'd like to eat something fancy tonight.
Tom: Do you want to go out?
Sue: Well, we ordered a take away two days ago, so maybe we'll cook something instead?
Tom: Right. So what should we cook? We ate lasagne and pepperoni pizza.
Sue: Maybe egg fried rice? I think we've got some leftover rice from yesterday's supper in the fridge.
Tom: Hmmm... I've never prepared an Asian dish before. This should be fun. Do we have all the ingredients needed?
Sue: Let me check the recipe. Well, there's rice and eggs in the fridge. But I'm afraid we have to go shopping for the rest of the ingredients. Luckily I got a wok from Mary for my birthday, so we definitely don't have to buy that. Put your shoes on and let's go.
***
Tom: I've got garlic, chillies and shallots. We still need to find some prawns.
Sue: I've got spring onions, but I couldn't find any galangal and sambal belacan, so I guess ginger and sambal oelek will have to do the trick.
Tom: What about soy sauce and sesame oil?
Sue: Yeah, I've got those. Let's go to the sea food department to get that prawns.

1. Sue wants to eat out.
2. They ordered food yesterday.
3. They had Italian food.
4. Tom has never cooked an Asian dish before.
5. They have all the ingredients needed for the dish.
6. Sue got a wok for her birthday.
7. They will use galangal and sambal belacan for their dish.

LIVEWORKSHEETS