

Skyfall - Bond back in active service

B: The whole office goes up in smoke and that bloody thing
-----.

M: Your interior decorating tips have always been appreciated,
007. 007, Gareth Mallory.

GM: I hope I haven't missed anything but the P.M. does prattle on in the crisis. Bond...

B: Mallory...

M: I've just been ----- Bond's tests. Seems you've passed, by the skin of your teeth. You're back on active service.

GM: Congratulations.

B: Thank you. I'll be -----.

GM: I only have one question. Why not stay dead? You have the perfect way out, go and live ----- somewhere. Not many field agents get to leave this cleanly.

B: Do you get out in the field much?

GM: You don't ----- to be an operative to see the obvious.
It's a young man's game. Look, you've been seriously injured. There's no shame in saying you've lost a step. The only shame in it'd be to not admitting it until it's too -----

B: Hire me or fire me, it's entirely ----- to you.

M: If he says he is ready, he is ready.

GM: Perhaps you can't see it all. Maybe you won't.

M: What exactly are you implying?

GM: You are ----- about him.

M: As long as I'm head of this department, I'll choose my own operatives.

GM: Fair ----- Good luck, 007. Don't cock it up.
