

Indefinite Pronouns

Indefinite Pronouns

	-thing	-body	-one
some-	something	Somebody	someone
any-	anything	Anybody	anyone
every-	everything	Everybody	everyone
no-	Nothing	nobody	no one

Difference between every-, some-, any-, no-

INDEFINITE PRONOUN	USAGE	EXAMPLE
everything everybody/everyone	every individual in a group, all together	Everything looks different. It seems that everyone has disappeared.
something somebody/someone	an unspecified person or thing	I would really like to ask someone . I think I heard something .
anything anybody/anyone	one random person of a group, one random thing	I am sure anyone could help me to get back to the city centre. I would do anything to get back to the city centre.
	in negative sentences, in the sense of nothing/nobody	But there isn't anyone here I could ask.
	in questions whether there is something/something	Is there anyone there?
nothing nobody/no one	not one single thing or person	Nothing looks familiar. There is nobody in the street

A. Fill in the blanks with someone, something, everyone, everything, no one, nothing, anyone or anything.

1. _____ has eaten my cake!
2. There is _____ under the blanket.
3. Does _____ know the way to the bank?
4. _____ likes Tina's dance.
5. The playground is empty because _____ wants to play in the rain.
6. I could see _____ moving under the paper.
7. There was _____ in the fridge to eat.
8. I am so hungry that I can eat _____.
9. _____ in the room was a mess.
10. I have eaten _____ on my plate.

B. Fill in each blank with the correct indefinite pronoun.

1. There is _____ in school today. It is Sunday, so _____ is at home. [everyone, no one]
2. _____ was allowed to enter the class as _____ saw a snake in the class. [someone, no one]
3. Did _____ see _____ on the table? I have misplaced my smartphone. [anyone, anything]
4. When _____ broke into house, I did not see _____ as I was fast asleep. [someone, anything]
5. _____ is still on the table! Why isn't _____ clearing the table? [everything, anyone]
6. I thought I saw _____ on the table but when I looked carefully, there was _____. [nothing, something]
7. _____ tried to save the kitten but _____ could do _____ as the water was swift. [no one, anything, everyone]
8. I saw _____ peeping through the window when _____ was asleep, so I told _____. [no one, everyone, someone]

C. Choose the correct answer.

Ikram was puzzled to hear some loud noises outside his house. He went out and saw _____ (1) gathered near the drain. _____ (2) had seen _____ (3) in the drain. It was a cobra! _____ (4) stepped back. _____ (5) dared to go near the drain. Suddenly, we heard the sound of siren. It was the fire brigade. However, before the fire brigade arrived, we heard _____ (6) playing a strange tune. He was a snake charmer. He jumped into the drain. He played the music again and the snake began to sway. Suddenly, he caught the snake and put it into a basket. He didn't wear _____ (7) on his hands, not even a glove! He had _____ (8) to help him too. By this time, the firefighters arrived but there was _____ (9) for them to do. They told _____ (10) to go home. Soon, _____ (11) left. Ikram went home too. He looked out of the window but there was _____ (12) outside.