August 17th 6th grade

Direct and indirect objects

Sara	gave	me	the pencil.			Object pronouns: me, you, her, him, us, them
Sara	gave		the pencil	to	me.
My brother	made	us	breakfast.
My brother	made		breakfast	for	us.

The two sentences mean the same thing.
Sara gave me the pencil. = Sara gave the pencil to me.
With make and buy, use for: Our teacher made / bought breakfast for us.

1 Read. Match the sentences with the same meaning. Draw a line.

1. I showed my games to Nadia.
2. Nadia gave her games to me.
3. I sent two games to Beto and Nadia.
4. Beto sold some games to Nadia.
5. Beto sent some games to me and Nadia.
6. Nadia bought some games for Beto.

a. She bought him some games.
b. I sent them two games.
c. He sold her some games.
d. She gave me her games.
e. He sent us some games.
f. I showed her my games.

2 Read. Replace the underlined word(s).

1. My friends bought a dinosaur for her Monica.
2. She showed the photo to her friends.
3. I sent an e-mail to my brother.
4. We found some old comic books for Ana and Ivan.
5. The children made a cake for me and Katherine.
6. I played a video game with my sister.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

3 Rewrite the sentences. Use her, them, and us.

1. Lea made Grandma a birthday card.

_____

2. Uncle Jon bought Clara and me some presents.

_____

3. Bela gave the scientists the fossils she found.

_____

4 Write. Rewrite each sentence from Activity 3. Use to or for.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

LIVEWORKSHEETS