Why is Social Distancing Important during Corona Pandemic?

As cases of coronavirus disease or COVID-19 continue to spread like wildfire across the globe, the term social distancing seems to be flooding news and social media feeds. It is done by keeping a safe space about 1.5 meters between yourself and other people who are not from your household. Then, why is social distancing important?

When someone coughs or sneezes, they spray small droplets from their nose or mouth which may contain the virus. If you are too close, you can breathe in the droplets, including the COVID-19 virus if the person coughing has the disease, even if they do not feel sick. The best way to fight the spread of the virus is to stay at home, be away from your friends, and socialize online.

Physically distancing is critical to try and limit the spread of COVID-19. The rationale behind social distancing is to try and avoid a huge spike in COVID-19 cases that will put too much strain on our health care system all at once. If everyone gets sick at the same time, hospitals will be overwhelmed, and won't have the capability to provide the necessary treatment for everyone.

As discussed above, it is clear that social (physical) distancing is important because it can effectively break the transmission chain if we continue to limit our physical interactions with others during the coronavirus pandemic.

The Importance to Wear a Mask

The issue of wearing face coverings in public comes up frequently these days. A common sentiment is, "If I am not personally at high risk for COVID-19, why should I wear a mask?" For those who do not cover their nose and mouth in public places, read the reasons below!

The reason for this is that the virus that causes COVID-19 can be spread even before symptoms appear, by such things as coughing, sneezing, or even speaking at close range. Cloth face coverings have been recommended due to their low cost and ready availability.

The importance of using it in public is illustrated here. If I wear my face covering to protect you from me, and you wear your face covering to protect me from you, then we can all dramatically decrease our risk of transmission of the virus that causes COVID-19.

It is obvious that wearing a mask is one of the most important things we can do to stop the spread of COVID-19. To wear a mask safely, follow the tips below:

1. Wash hands before putting on your mask.
2. Put the mask over the nose and mouth. Don't forget to secure it under the chin.
3. Slip the loops over the ears or tie the strings behind the head.

1	Firstly, the violators will continue to ignore the health protocol suggested by the government if they aren't sanctioned. By being sanctioned, they will feel deterred and ashamed so that in the future they will obey the rules given.
2	COVID-19 health protocol violators should be sanctioned
3	Lastly, giving sanctions to the violators will make them more aware of the danger of COVID-19. It is said that WHO declared COVID-19 a pandemic, which means that this virus is very dangerous, so it is best to continue to maintain health and avoid COVID-19.
4	Therefore, the health protocol violators should be sanctioned because of the reasons given above
5	COVID-19 health protocol violators should be sanctioned. As we know, the number of people infected with the covid virus is still increasing in our country, but some people still ignore the health protocol by not wearing mask and keeping their distance.
6	Secondly, by sanctioning the violators, they will understand responsibility. Not only does it prevent us from being infected by the virus, but adhering to health protocols also keep others safe. We may not feel infected, but at least we prevent bad things by continuing to keep distance and wearing masks. That way, we will fulfill our responsibilities to ourselves and others.

1	Second, we also interact with many people. There is a chance they can carry the virus in their hands when shaking hands or interacting with us. Even though we do not touch contaminated objects, we touch that person's hand.
2	Accordingly, washing hands is important because we can be contaminated at any time by viruses. Washing hands with soap will be cheaper and easier to do than using hand sanitizer. It is clear that washing hands keep the health of ourselves and the people we love around us, especially during the COVID-19 pandemic.
3	Respiratory viruses such as COVID-19, spread when mucus or droplets containing the virus enter the body through the nose, mouth, or eyes. One of the cheapest, easiest, and most important ways to prevent the spread of the virus is to wash your hands often with soap and water. Then why is washing hand is important in the COVID-19 outbreak? Is it really work?
4	The Importance of Hand Washing in Covid-19 Outbreak
5	First, objects in public places may have viruses on them. Our hands touch many objects in public and there may be viruses on them. The contaminated hand then touches our eyes, nose, and mouth. We can become sick when the virus infected our body.
