Exercise: Pronouns and Antecedents

1. The class was divided in (its, their) opinion of the new president of the university.
2. (Who, Whom) is speaking please?
3. She and (I, me) volunteered to go to Bora cay Beach to see the white sand.
4. It was (they, them) who persuaded us to see a fortune teller.
5. They wanted (us, we) girls to prepare the food for the party.
6. He is willing to hire (whoever, whomever) comes first.
7. That was (she, her) calling in the telephone.
8. Don't mind (my, me) complaining.
9. (It's, its) a fact; Paula is shorter than Tinting and (I, me).
10. Everyone must keep (himself, themselves) busy.

LIVEWORKSHEETS