MY BEST FRIEND

Everybody needs a soul mate, who shares with us happiness, sadness and secrets. My bestie is Daniel who is smart and serious. Some of our classmates think he is hard to get along with. Actually, he speaks very politely and has a great sense of humor. Ah, he annoys me with his dad jokes sometimes. Daniel is creative and loves writing stories and poems. He often wins high prizes in any short story competitions he enters. He spends much time practicing basketball, too. He wants to play for the school team someday. Daniel and I have been friends for about four years. And I know that our friendship will be endless.
