

Match with the correct option.

The sun heats the water and it goes up into the air.

The water vapour changes back to water-drops and forms clouds.

Water-drops fall as rain, hail or snow.

The water returns to the rivers, lakes, seas and

Precipitation

Collection

Evaporation

Condensation