Planning an adventure trip

Researching your destination probably will make all aspects of your adventure trip easier, as well helping you to (1) _____ the most out of the experience. Research will help you pick the bast places to go but you'll also learn what you need to pack and also what cultural (and sometimes political) issues you should be (2) _____ of.

Climate and seasonal pricing are important (3) _____ in your decision about when to go. For adventure travel, bad weather or whether you're not (4) _____ for can ruin the trip. While you can't predict what the (5) _____ weather will be, find out as much as you can about the climate in advance.

While some research is absolutely (6) _____, don't plan very moment of your trip in advance. Over-planning tends to make people less (7) _____ to take part in the surprising and spontaneous (8) _____ that are part of any sort of adventure travel. It's really important to keep a big reserve of excitement and energy ready for the unpredictable.

1 A take	B get	C find	D set
2 A aware	B familiar	C informed	D knowledgeable
3 A points	B reasons	C factors	D details
4 A anticipated	B prepared	C expected	D planned
5 A accurate	B correct	C true	D exact
6 A needed	B essential	C ideal	D useful
7 A curious	B interested	C attracted	D willing
8 A circumstances	B performances	C events	D chances

LIVEWORKSHEETS