

1. Imagine that you are going to your boy / girlfriend's parents' house for dinner. This is the first time you are going to meet them, so you want to make a good impression! Your best friend offers you some advice. Complete the advice with must, mustn't, or needn't.

You _____ wear a formal suit, but you should look clean and tidy.

You _____ arrive on time, because it's disrespectful to be late.

You _____ talk too much about your ex-boy / girlfriends.

You _____ slouch at the dinner table, as it's very rude.

You _____ be confident, but not arrogant.

You _____ kiss the parents. It's OK just to say 'hello' or shake hands.

You _____ take an interest in the parents. Ask them some questions about themselves.

You _____ take along an expensive gift, but some flowers or chocolates would be a nice idea.

You _____ kiss your boy / girlfriend, because it might be embarrassing for the parents.

You _____ swear in front of the parents. Remember you want to impress them!

You _____ agree with everything the parents say. It's alright to disagree if you do it politely.

You _____ say something nice about the food, even if you don't like it.
