Part 3

Section A: Rational Cloze (Questions No. 38-47)

Choose the most suitable answer to fill in each of the blank.

There once lived a rich old man. One day, he decided to give his _____ (38) sons some money _____ (39) that they would be able to do something to improve their lives.

He called his sons together and said, "My children, I've decided to give _____ (40) of you RM50, 000 to use in whatever way you like to improve yourselves." The boys were pleased to hear this and thanked their father for his _____ (41) gift.

"However," the old man continued, "you _____ (42) return my capital to me when I am dead. You will each put _____ (43) my coffin the same amount I gave you."

The sons agreed. They took their share of _____ (44) money and _____ (45) to accomplish their own ambition. The eldest son became a lawyer, the second, a jeweller, and the youngest, a businessman.

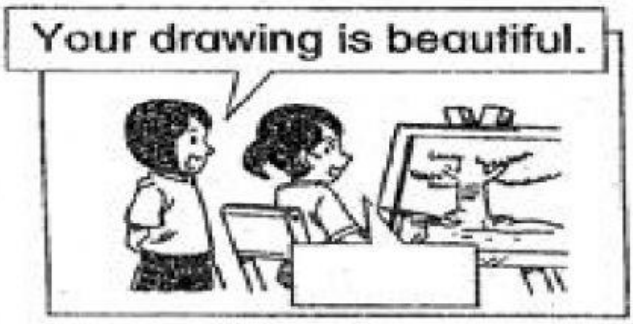

Years later, the rich old man died. Keeping to _____ (46) father's request, the lawyer son came and placed RM50, 000 in cash in his father's coffin. The jeweller did the same. The businessman, however _____ (47) the RM100, 000 that his brothers had put in. He then wrote his father a crossed cheque for RM150, 000 and placed it in the coffin.
