Persons A and B are friends, and they are discussing about activity to carry out over the weekend using some ideas. Please will up the dialogue for person 'B'.

Person A :	Good morning. In my opinion the best activity to do over the weekend is let's grow our own plants. It will be good for the environment, and we can also grow our own vegetables. What do you think B?
Person B :	I agree with your suggestion. However,
Person A :	I'm sorry but I don't think that's a good plan. I also had another idea in mind that could benefit others. Hence, shall we organise an afternoon tea on Sunday for charity? This way, we can use the ticket money to buy some necessities for the poor people in our neighbourhood. What do you think, B?
Person B :
Person A :	That sounds fun but let me give one more suggestion before we decide on one. What about trying something that you don't like, for instance playing badminton. I know you always found the sport difficult.
Person B :
Person A :	Therefore, I agree with you. I think that's the best activity for us to do this coming weekend.
