

An Englishman

Read the story

One day an Englishman came to London. He stopped at a hotel. From the hotel he went to a post –office. He sent a telegram to his wife. In that telegram he wrote the address of his hotel.

The man left the post-office and went for a walk. In the evening, he wanted to go back to his hotel. But he forgot the address of his hotel. What could he go?

The man went back to the post –office and sent another telegram to his wife. He asked his wife to write the address of his hotel in London.

Find these words in the text

come-

leave-

stop-

want-

go-forget-

send-can-write-

ask-

Write True/False

- 1) An Englishman came to Paris.
- 2) He stopped at his friend's house.
- 3) He went to a post-office.
- 4) He sent a letter to his wife.
- 5) The man left the post-office and went for a walk.
- 6) He forgot the address.

Answer the questions

1. Who came to London?
2. Where did he stop?
3. Where did he go?
4. What did he send to his wife?
5. Where did he go after the post-office?
6. What did he forget?

Match the words with pictures

post-office hotel London telegram wife write

Complete the sentences with the words

London wife hotel post-office write telegram

- 1) We can buy stamps at the _____
- 2) This morning I got a _____
- 3) She is a wonderful _____
- 4) My friend stayed at a cheap _____
- 5) _____ is the capital of Great Britain
- 6) _____ your name on the piece of paper.

Fill the gaps with was/were or did

1. _____ she come to London yesterday?
2. _____ your father at work last Friday?
3. _____ you send a letter to your friend?
4. _____ they at home?
5. _____ dinner ready?
6. _____ he buy a new computer?
7. _____ Tom from Italy?
8. _____ they play football last Saturday?
9. _____ you on the bus?
10. _____ Anna go to the shop?
11. _____ he at school?
12. _____ people in a hurry?