Ann : John, Hi. What are you _____ now?

John : Hi. I'm doing my Science homework.

Ann : There goes Jessica! She is probably on her way to practice tennis.

Rose : Yes, she practices very hard. She _____ become a great _____.

John : It's good to see her working hard for her dream.

Rose : That's right. Ann! What do you want to be when you grow up?

Ann : I want to be a _____ in the future.

Rose : Oh really? I bet you can do it! You are better in dancing and singing than all of us.

Ann : Thank you. But do you think I can do it?

Rose : You dance and sing everyday! I'm pretty sure you can make it.

Ann : Thanks. What do you want to be in the future?

Rose : I love animals. I _____ work in a zoo.

Ann : Do you want to be a _____?

Rose : Not really a vet, but instead, I want to feed animals and take care of them.

John : You mean, you want to be a _____?

Rose : Yes, that's right.

John : This homework is too much and boring. I wish I can be an adult.

Ann : What do you want to be when you grow up?

John : Hmm. I don't know. It changes everyday.

Rose : Wow, that so interesting. So what are you thinking today?

John : I want to be an _____. I wish I can explore the mars.

Ann : Splendid!

Ann : What about finishing up your science homework first?

Alright. I'm going to Mars for sure.
