People who help us: Firefighters

Simon Cooper, who is a firefighter, loves helping people. We asked Simon about his job.

Where do you work, Simon?

I work in a fire station. The fire station, which is near my house, is not very big and I know everyone there.

What do you do each day?

We have to wait upstairs in the fire station. Usually we are training when we wait. When there is a fire, which happens every day, there is a loud alarm. Then we run to the fire engine. We have to drive quickly to the fire. We use long hoses to put out the fire. My job, which can be dangerous, is also very exciting. I really love it.

What do you wear?

We wear a special uniform. The uniform, which is bright yellow, helps people to see us easily.
