The Twins

Ann and Mary were twins. They were born on September 21. They are ten now. Ann and Mary did everything together. They dressed alike. They were in the same class. They were identical in the way they looked. People were always getting them confused. This really made Ann and Mary laugh. Teachers were always getting them mixed up at school. Everyone just smiled and tried to figure out which one was which. Their Dad even had trouble telling them apart.

Ann and Mary had the same friends. Their friends always mixed them up. It didn't matter to Ann and Mary. One day, their dad told their mom to get one of them a different haircut so he could tell them apart. Ann and Mary were very upset. They didn't want to be different. They liked being the same. The girls were happy just the way they were and didn't want to change. Dad just shook his head and stayed confused. Ann and Mary didn't care. They knew which one was which. They were sisters, and that was all that mattered.
