During the era of the space race between the USA and USSR, the Soviet Union launched the first living thing into space. It was a dog named Laika. The objective of the trip was to prove that space travel for humans was safe, but technology hadn't advanced enough to bring ships back yet. Laika was a street dog that became an astronaut because of her size and calmness. After some training, she was ready to go into space. Her ship, called Sputnik 2, was launched on November 3, 1957. Laika was supposed to orbit the planets some days and the first reports from Russian space programs said so. ºfef 1993, some Russian space program scientists revealed that Laika died soon after leaving the planet's atmosphere because of stress and overheating. Many people in the world were in great sorrow because of her death. Since then, her story has spread around the world and has inspired many tales, songs, and poems. Some of them say that Laika became a star in the sky.
