

Complete the following chart about William Perkins with examples taken from the story "Gallop- ing Foxley" by Roald Dahl. An example has been made for you.

Type of Indirect Characterization	Examples	Explanation
Speech	"It is never unduly crowded" – "I am gently but firmly launched into the waters of daily business routine"	The main character's speech is formal elaborate. This shows he is a person with proper manners and enjoys following the rules. Also, it shows he is received a suitable education.
Thoughts
Effect on others
Actions
Looks		