

PROOFREADING

To proofread is to look at all the little details of a piece of writing, such as spelling, word choice, formatting, punctuation, and sentence structure. When you proofread, you look for errors and fix them.

Instructions: Rewrite the sentences (#1 - #8) below using proper grammar, spelling, and punctuation.
Then look at number 9 through 16 and drag the correct proofreading mark.

- 1) kaziah will turning three in October 17.

- 2) I do not in believe magic, but i definitely beleive in miracles.

- 3) The acronym t.h.i.n.k. is often used to discourage cyberbully.

- 4) Every week Ricquel and Andrea take ballet lesons on Saturday

- 5) When posting on Social media, it is wise to be discreet

- 6) He said he wouldnt return to the Bahamas.

- 7) It may be best to eliminate distractions when you are doing you're assignments.

- 8) To proofread isto look at all of the little details for mistakes to correct them.

Look at the sentences above. Which proofreader's mark would you use to show the first error in each sentence?

- 9) #1

- 10) #2

- 11) #3

- 12) #4

- 13) #5

- 14) #6

- 15) #7

- 16) #8

o

~

)

#

==

lc

^

e sp

Created by: P. Hield