Avoiding Run-On Sentences

A run-on sentence contains two or more sentences that have been incorrectly joined.

Read each sentence. If it is a run-on sentence, write RO. If the sentence is correct, write C.

1. In the summer, there are concerts in the park we like to take a picnic with us. _____

2. I took my friend to a concert. We had a wonderful time. _____

3. One concert was so crowded that we couldn't find a place to sit. _____

4. The band continues to play after dark I bring a flashlight with me. _____

Rewrite each run-on sentence as two separate sentences.

5. My friend Amanda went to every concert sometimes we would meet at the park and sit together.

_____

_____

6. My family really enjoyed the jazz band the best they brought my father up on stage.

_____

Correct the run-on sentences by selecting and, but, or or.
