

Assignment #3
Fill in the blank
Functions of the family

1. Changes in relationships can create tensions- be problems and _____ that can occur because of the changes.
2. The _____ usually takes place within the affected family but that is not always the reason for family size, being increased.
3. Understanding how your feelings affect your _____ and how your behavior affects your family relationship is important.
4. The way that members pf the family _____ with each other can build up or break down family relationships.
5. Some _____ of behavior help people to like you and to want to be with you.
6. Other behaviors are _____ to family.
7. Students will comprehend the _____ between reproduction and family size.
8. Explore together the _____ of alternate reproduction for increasing family size.
9. In order for family to have a healthy relationship, it is important for all members of the family to be willing to work toward _____ the best possible relationship.
10. The _____ of family relationships.