I'm George and I live in London. My father is a dentist and he works very hard. His clinic is near my school, so we take the underground together in the morning. The train is usually full. A lot of people like reading books or watching videos on their mobile phones. Yesterday, I sat next to a boy who had a shiny, expensive phone. He was very kind – he let me play with his phone! When we got to Highgate station, the boy jumped up and said, 'Oh no! It's my stop!' and ran out of the train. I shouted, 'Wait! Your phone!' but he didn't hear me. My dad said, 'Don't worry, I can take the phone to the police station.' After school, my dad picked me up. The first thing he said was, 'Guess who came to my clinic this morning? The boy who forgot his phone!' I didn't understand. 'He's my patient!'

Writing activity

Read. Then write where you go when you go to the city. What places do and don't you like in the city? Write 60–80 words.

When I go to the city, I always go to the big, new shopping centre near the cinema. I like going there at the weekend with my friends. We go shopping or we have lunch in the café. I have to go by bus to get to the shopping centre. It's a great place! There's a football stadium in the city, too. My brother goes there every Saturday to play football. I don't like it because it's cold. I never go there. I prefer the shopping centre.
