

Match the following major computer functions with its correct definition.

Input	Information displayed for the user on the monitor.
Storage	Turning the data into information by organizing, manipulating or calculating.
Output	Entering data into their computer by typing, using the mouse, scanning, etc.
Process	computer saves the information and the data as storage