

Name: _____

Date: _____

Trace the air flow in and out of the lungs.

Arrange the statements by putting numbers 1 to 6 on the line.

Air passes through the trachea leading to the lungs.

Air will enter the alveoli for gas exchange to happen.

Oxygen will enter the blood while carbon dioxide will be expelled out of the body.

Inside the lungs, air passes through the bronchioles.

Air enters the nose.

Air will enter the left or right lungs through the bronchi.