Name _____

Grammar: Writing with Interjections

An interjection is a word or phrase that expresses emotion or feeling, gives a command or fills a silence. It usually begins a sentence, but sometimes it may interrupt a sentence or be at the end of a sentence.

Example: Whee! This is a fun roller coaster! In the example, whee is an interjection.

Use the interjections to write original sentences in the space below. Use each interjection only once.

1. Well
