Sam changed his mind and decided to play too and left the house to join James in the park.

While he was waiting for a reply, Sam brushed his teeth, had a shower, and got dressed.

When they all arrived they saw that James had found some other kids to play and they had enough people for a full match.

It was raining outside when Sam got out of bed and looked out of the window.

After the game Sam went home. On the way he stopped at a shop to buy something for his lunch.

He was walking home, thinking about the goals he had scored that day, when he saw his mom drive past.

James said he wanted to play football anyway and he didn't care about the rain.

She saw him and stopped the car to give him a ride home. She had been working all morning but she was in a good mood.

He picked up his phone and sent a text to his friend James. "No football today. How about going to the cinema?"

Sam sat back in his seat and looked forward to having his lunch. He was having a great day!

He was about to pay when he realised he had forgotten to take his wallet when he had left his house.

While he was walking to the park Sam met two of his other friends and invited them along.

When they arrived, Sam cooked lunch for the entire family.

After he finished getting ready he checked his phone and saw that James had replied.

He apologised and left the shop. Sam was feeling hungry but he knew he had plenty of food at home.

While they were playing football, it stopped raining and Sam was really happy he hadn't gone to the cinema.
