Challenge 9 | Read the following text and choose the correct answers.

On Sunday, Korean Air had officially stopped serving peanuts as snacks. This new policy followed the incident of two teenage brothers who were incapable of boarding the plane due to a peanut allergy.

According to the parents of the two brothers in media reports, the Korean Air decided to remove their sons from the plane because they refused to accommodate people with serious peanut allergy.

The family was on their way to the Philippines from Atlanta, but they were stranded in Seoul because of this incident. Originally, the Korean Airline refused to stop serving peanuts for snacks. However, the older brother's peanut allergy was very severe, so media outlets like Good Morning America and USA Today were enraged and reported the incident, which made Korean Air relent.

Several weeks after the incident, the Korean Air stopped serving peanuts for in-flight snacks.
