Fun with Paper

Origami is a very popular hobby today. The Japanese invented it in the 17th century, and now it is famous everywhere in the world. The word “origami” comes from two Japanese words: “ori”, which means “folding”, and “kami”, which means “paper”.

In origami, you always begin with one square sheet of paper. Then you fold the paper many times to make a shape. Origami is very creative. You can make very simple shapes, for example, a little bug. Or you can make a difficult design. To make a difficult shape, such as a dragon, you have to fold the paper many times in different ways. The most famous origami design is the Japanese paper crane. Origami can be more difficult than you think, but it's fun!
