MAX. MARKS:20

I. Read the passage carefully and answer the following questions.

Child labour has become one of the biggest social issues in India that need to be resolved on a regular basis. It is not only the responsibility of the government, but it should also be resolved and taken care of by all parents, owners, and other social organizations.

Child labour is very common in many developing countries due to the high level of poverty and absence of schooling opportunities for children.

The highest occurrence rate of child labour is still more than 50 percent with children aged between 5 and 14 workings in the developing country. The rate of child labour in the agricultural sector is high, where most children are mainly sent by their own parents rather than sending them to school and freeing them to play.

The issue of child labour is now an international concern as it is highly involved in preventing the growth and development of the country. Healthy children are the bright future and power of any country and thus child labour hurts, spoils and destroys the future of children and ultimately the country.
